cames were therry steady considering yesterday's drop and northwestern receipts seemed to be falling short. Receipts were 35 cars—none of contract grade. Minneau, of 659 cars—none of contract grade. Minneau, a total for the three points of 25 cars, making a total for the three points of 25 cars, and for the three points of 25 cars, a total height specific spec on bushels, compared to 1,35,030 bushels last week.

The buillsh effect of cold weather and corn strength was short lived in wheat. Selling set in, statistical aspers commented very favorably on the crop situation and May sold off to a weak close, $0.20 lower at 74.6.

CORN—Fear of the northwestern cold wave atimulated buying of corn and on the very light early offerings advanced prices. Cables were stendy. Kansas City was reported yesterday as bidding in lowar le over Chicago prices. May opened unchanged to '5c higher, at 61.5225c, and sold to 62.5c, casing a shade later on. Susiness was not very heavy during the early pairt of the day. Receipts were 9 cars. Corn sold up on its early strength to 625, 6623c. The wheat break cased this pit for a time to last night's close, but at the end May was firm, $40.5c, but at the end May was firm $40.5c, but at the

for a time to last night's close but at the end May was firm, which higher, at 6346 Cars.

GATS—Oats were quiet and almost featureless. The corn strength had very light inducate the demand being very light. May opened 48-4c lower, at 65-66-64c.

Later May regained its loss and sold at 65-66. Receipts were 22 cars.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were slow at the opening. Lower prices for hogs eased the tone somewhat, but the grain situation helped later and incited a little upturn, May pork opened unchanged at $15-50, slid to $15-42-8013-35. May lard Size lower, at $0.40, and May ribs unchanged, at $5.60, and rose to $5.425, dipped a shade and recovered again.

Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred advanced 1½ points and Chicago and Eastern Hilmois a noint.

Amalgamated Copper fell off slightly and then gained a large fraction and Sugar advanced a point. The strength of these leaders, combined with a further rise in Manhatian to 13%, imparted a firm tone to the railroad list and there was improvement in St. Paul, Missouri Pacific and Southern Pat.fic. Canadian Pacific was active and rose a point and a similar rise occurred in Lake Eric and Western preferred, Pennsylvania, Rubber Goods, International Silver, American Linseed, Hocking Valley preferred and Virginia-Carolina Chemical, Stocks were a trific easier at II o'clock and the market was becoming very duil. There was a drop of 1½ points in New York, Chicago and St. Louis second preferred.

The trading was irregular, realizing making some inroads at some points, while a number of other stocks advanced. Missouri Pacific rose 1½ points and there was a demand for Wabash preferred, which lifted it 1½ points. The announcement of the transfer of currency to San Francisco through the subtreasury induced some selling of Amalgamated Copper, Pennsylvania, Sugar, Manhatian, St. Paul and Southern Pacific Southern Railway fell 1½ points, but recovered nearly all of it. There was a rise of 6½ points in Westinghouse Electric and I to 1½ points in American Lussed preferred and National Lead. North American declined 2½ points. Bonds were irregular, with large dealings in Wabash debenture Bs.

There was a renewal of active buying of Manhattan which carried it 3½ points over last night, the other local tractions rising in sympathy, National Lead gained 2½ and the preferred 4 points. St. Louis Southwestern stocks and Peoria and Eastern advanced a point or more. On the other head and market was duil and irregular.

King Wins at Pool. Butte, Mont., March 14.-The handlcap pool game between W. W. King of Chicago, and Sol Metzner of Omaha, was concluded at the Auditorium at 1:45 this morning, King won with a score of 750 against 564.

DIDN'T FILL THE BILL. Many People Disappointed at the Play "Sag Harbor."

It would probably be dangerous for anyone in New York to intimate that any play written by the late James A. Herne was not perfect in every detail. Topeka is a long way from Kings county, and the distance may lend safety. "Sag Harbor," which has won the approval of the Knickerbockers and Alan Dale, was at the Crawford last night, and it did not receive the unqualified approval of everyone in the audience, as it did when it was produced amid the rumble and roar of Broadway.

Herne was one of the best portrayers of New England types that the stage has known. He was a most successful dramafist and producer. He wrote plays that received the approval of the pulpit. Herne was the evangelical worker of the stage who, with his characters and his scenery, strove to teach the story of the good, honest, hard-working fisher folk and farmers of New England. For these reasons he is referred to with respect as the late James A. Herne.

With all due respect to the memory of Herne, it must be said that "Sag Harbor," as presented by the Liebler company, falled to hold the attention of the audience and win the approval as other New England plays have done. The company was good, the parts were well taken, and no one but Herne himself, as the blundering "Captain Marble," was needed to make the cast all that could be expected. The success of the play in the east may have been because Herne before he died was the joily sea captain. Perhaps his personality won the play its reputation.

Herne has written good plays, One of them, "Shore Acres" was last seen in Topeka two years ago. It is a better play than "Sag Harbor." By comparing the two it seems that Herne, like many other dramatitis and writers, has some chosen plot which he changed slightly, reburnished with a few new speeches and incidents and wove into the fabric of each of his plays. The love of two brothers for the same woman is the story of "Shore Acres" and the laye of two brothers for the same woman is the story of "Shore Acres" and the laye of two brothers for the same wom

Margaret Pitt sustained the difficult part of "Martha Reese" in a naively realistic manner. Rillie Deaves was a good "Elizabeth" and Molile Revel was a funny "Mrs. John Russeli."

There is a parting shot that may be taken at "Sag Harbor." It should be aimed at the situations and lines that do not border on risqueness but that get clear over the boundry and brings hoots and yells from the gallery.

There is something almost pathetic in the mother making baby clothes and the scene is new to the stage. It should be a delicate and attractive part of the play but there is danger—great danger of making it a burlesque.

Franklyn Ritchie handled the part of "Ben Turner" in a satisfactory manner, and John Dean was a capital "Frank Turner," the effervescent boyish lover with the jauntiness born of his service before the mast. His assumed sang frold was excellently done. The truest charcter in the play was "Freeman Whitmarsh," by C. B. Craig, He was a typical six-footer, slim, redhaired and unsuppressible.

He was a typical six-footer, slim, red-haired and unsuppressible.

Everyone has seen just such charac-ters in real life. The kind that fall in love with every pretty face they see and are never daunted by being snubbed. "Freeman" could be taken out of the cast and a play built round him that would make an excellent comedy.
